

LINDA CRAWFORD

LCPH, MHMA (UK), CBT, MARH

Linda is a Homoeopath, Psychotherapist, Master NLP Practitioner, BioEnergetics & Neurofeedback Practitioner and Hypnotherapist. She is CEO of the Linda Crawford Clinics, Principal of the College of Bio Energetic Medicine and Director of the London Shyness Centre. Linda's first book "Shyness" was published in 1997 in the U.K., USA and Italy and she is currently working on two further books. She has trained and worked in Britain, the United States, Hungary and Switzerland. Linda's work at her practices at the Hale Clinic, Regents Park, the Chiron Clinic in Harley Street and at Healthy Stuff in Marlow, Buckinghamshire include Neurofeedback and Bio Resonance Testing. Linda has trained extensively in America with NLP, and Neurofeedback.

Linda's training and research in Neurofeedback has brought a powerful tool into her integrated practice. Training the brain to balance both the emotional and the physical state. The addition of these techniques has further enhanced her already powerful results.

The biofeedback full body scan she uses for all of her clients has led her to realise the full extent of toxicity and its degenerative process within the human body. Linda has been researching autism and hyperactivity for three years with HASG. The past seven years of training and working in toxicity removal under Professor Bill Nelson in London and Hungary and Halina Senn in Lausanne, Switzerland has given her powerful tools to combat the epidemic of toxicity caused disease. Her dream became to research and provide scientific evidence that would change lives safely and non-invasively.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Linda Crawford is a qualified Homoeopath, Psychotherapist, Master NLP Practitioner, Biofeedback Practitioner & Hypnotherapist and she has trained in America with Neurofeedback.

The initial consultation will be longer than subsequent follow up treatments. Your full case history will be taken and with the use of biofeedback and neurofeedback assessment, a treatment protocol will be worked out that will assist rapid improvement in your conditions. Linda Crawford's approach is both dynamic and unique and assesses you as a highly individual human being.

Linda believes that her integrated therapy and assessment can enhance anyone's health, irrespective of its current state. The unique combination of homoeopathy, bio-energetic & EEG biofeedback assessment, combined with NLP, hypnotherapy and psychotherapy offers the ultimate healing programme. Every patient will have his/her unique requirements continually evaluated to ensure a consistently improving state of health.

Linda offers the most up to date and comprehensive holistic treatment you can find in the UK today. She practices from the Hale Clinic, Regents Park, the Chiron Clinic, Harley Street and in Marlow, Bucks.

Full Body Scan

Using the latest biofeedback and Neurofeedback devices a full body assessment can be obtained which will indicate energetic weaknesses in specific areas such as toxicities, parasitic infection, fungal infection, viral infection and emotional state etc.

Homoeopathy Explained

Homoeopathy is a complete system of medicine that aims to promote natural health by reinforcing the body's own healing powers. Homoeopathy works by correcting energy imbalances using minute doses of substances which are similar to the condition which are used to "match" the energy of the illness, thereby stimulating the body's own healing energy. Both conventional Homoeopathic and Complex Homoeopathic remedies create a powerful and effective healing system. The British Medical Journal presented an article by Jos Kleijnen and Paul Knipschild who concluded that Homoeopathy was indeed a legitimate science of medicine.

Food Sensitivity Assessment

Increasingly, health practitioners are seeing patients who are the victims of pollution and compromised immune systems. The rise in chronic conditions such as allergies, asthma, chronic fatigue, arthritis, MS, eating disorders and hyperactivity is proceeding at an alarming rate. These are all conditions that are in part allergy related.

NLP

The study of excellence and breaking of destructive behaviour patterns. Neuro linguistic programming is a powerful form of brief psychotherapy that taps into the subconscious and enables transformation to take place.

Neurofeedback

EEG Neurofeedback is the latest training aid to overcoming learning difficulties, increasing IQ, enhancing memory, increasing reading speed and overall peak performance.

Bio Energetics

Bio Energetics is a system used to measure the body's physical reaction to more than 3000 conditions, treatments and compounds is assessed, these include allergens, viruses, parasites, chemical toxins, fungi, amino acids and vitamins.
